

NADINNE EDGAR

ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE

Nadinne Edgar is an Account Executive with Emerge Staffing, serving South Florida and clients across the state of Florida. She brings over 10 years of experience in recruiting and sales, with a background that spans hospitality, property management, administrative, and executive staffing.

One of Nadinne's greatest strengths is relationship-building and communication. She thrives on networking, client growth, and adaptability, and she is highly skilled at problem-solving in high-pressure environments. Over the years, she has helped scale client teams, reduce turnover, secure major vendor approvals, and support high-volume seasonal hiring.

Colleagues and clients describe Nadinne as diligent, resilient, patient, and detail-oriented. She takes a people-first approach while delivering measurable business results, building trust through integrity, collaboration, and consistent performance.

Outside of work, Nadinne enjoys reading, watching documentaries, fitness training, attending networking events, and spending time with her family.
